

Proclamation

Recognizing Niraj Jinan

- WHEREAS, Niraj Jinan's mother taught him the value of not wasting food by establishing a house rule that "you only take the food you need and eat it all"; and
- WHEREAS, Niraj learned that by wasting food, there is the consequence of experiencing hunger; and
- WHEREAS, his mother served his meal later in the evening along with an article about school children going hungry every day; and
- WHEREAS, after reading the article, Niraj felt compelled to help these children who are unable to focus on school when they are hungry.
- WHEREAS, upon doing research, Niraj discovered the program Open Hand, a non-profit that helps serve free, healthy meals to economically and physically challenged people in the Atlanta area; and
- WHEREAS, Niraj has made it his mission to raise money for Open Hand.

Now, therefore, we, the Mayor and City Council of the City of Milton, commend Niraj Jinan for his compassion and commitment to serve those less fortunate and for being an exemplary member of the Milton community.

Given under our hand and seal of the City of Milton, Georgia on this 18th day of June, 2018.

Joe Lockwood, Mayor
